

BASIC SKILLS TESTING UPDATE

December 2020

This note is to provide some additional guidance for Seattle Teacher Residency (STR) applicants surrounding the Basic Skills Testing requirement.

The STR admissions team understands that there will be challenges with testing and score submission due to the pandemic. As long as you note this in your application, the committee will review all other materials to make a decision about your application. This means that testing may take place and score reports may arrive after the final application deadline.

Please describe your testing plan and/or upload score reports in the Basic Skills Test section of the application.
